

17/05/2025

EPLO 2025 Dialogues - Greece and the State of the EU: From Politics to Policy and to Civil Society Involvement

Athens, 16–17 May 2025

The EPLO is pleased to announce the organization of a two-day high-level conference titled "EPLO 2025 Dialogues – Greece and the State of the EU: From Politics to Policy and to Civil Society Involvement." The event will take place on Friday and Saturday, 16–17 May 2025, at the EPLO premises in Plaka, Athens.

The Dialogues will gather prominent figures from European institutions, academia, and civil society to engage in a multi-dimensional discussion on the current state and future direction of the European Union. Key topics include the priorities of the new European Commission, the Strategic Agenda of the European Council, Greece's role in the UN Security Council, EU enlargement, and the application of major strategic reports such as the Niinistö, Draghi, and Letta reports.

The second day will feature a dedicated focus on EU careers and the decision-making process, including a negotiation workshop simulating the functioning of EU institutions.

The EPLO 2025 Dialogues aims to foster informed civic participation and promote a deeper understanding of EU policy dynamics, institutional structures, and the role of civil society in shaping Europe's future.

To attend, please register here:

<https://forms.gle/f1wgjsTwkqkW35pk9>

Location: EPLO Premises, Plaka, Polygnotou 2 & Dioskouron Str., Athens (Entrance from the square of the Roman Agora)